Prof. Dr. Alexander Papitashvili

President of GSSA 50th Annual Convention and International Medical Conference

Georgia is a country with a rich history. In antique myths it was known as the country of “the golden fleece”, Argonauts and the refuge of the rebellious Prometheus.

As long as 10 centuries B.C. an intense trade was held on the territory of Georgia. Finickier traders penetrated here on their ships from the Mediterranean. A century later the Greeks appeared, who learnt the skill of ore smelting from the native inhabitants.

The nature of the country is unparalleled- humid subtropics of the Black Sea coast, diversity and wealth of mountain forests, rich pastures of the Alpine zone, curative mineral springs. People come to Georgia for treatment, for rest and travelling.

Those, who visit Georgia, may observe the pictures of all seasons in several days: ice-capped mountain peaks, new grass, just beginning to shoot on foothills, a hot summer among evergreen palm-trees.

Georgia is rightfully considered an original fine cuisine and ancient land of grape wine-motherland of wine. Viticulture is cultivated in most of its countryside regions.

Thick, resinous, pomegranate — red and golden-amber colored wines of Kakheti, light, crystal, sparkling wines of West Georgia, champagne and branded cognacs are world famous.

The Glory of Georgia are the unique resorts. .

There are over 220 of them—sea-side (Batumi,Kobuleti,Chakvi etc) and high mountainous winter resorts (Bakuriani,Gudauri etc), good for treatment and climatic ones.

Most of them are four season resorts.

Nobody can be indifferent to Tbilisi – a capital with a population of a million and a half.

The capital of Georgia is the greatest industrial and cultural center of the country.

“Tbilisi” in Georgian means “warm”. Tbilisi is actually a warm, kind and hospitable city.

The hospitable Georgia is always ready to host foreign visitors, who can rest here, improve the health, and get ineffaceable impressions.
